

WEINGUT ROBERT WEIL

100% Rheingau – 100% Riesling
100% Estate bottled – 100% certified organic and sustainable

Today, Weingut Robert Weil, founded 1875, is run by Wilhelm Weil, the fourth generation of the family. The estate's 90 ha (222 acres) of vineyards, cultivated exclusively certified organic and sustainable, are planted 100% with Riesling. The concentration on Riesling in the hillside vineyards of Kiedrich, a strict sustainable and yield-reducing work in the vineyards, selective hand harvest and extremely gentle vinification in stainless steel tanks or traditional wooden barrels ("Doppelstück") guarantee the production of individual and great wines. Thanks to this consistent quality management, each predicate from Estate Level ("Gutswein") to Gräfenberg (GROSSES GEWÄCHS "GG") to Trockenbeerenauslese has been harvested continuously in a globally unique series of individual vintages since 1989 at Weingut Robert Weil. Today, many observers of the international wine scene view Weingut Robert Weil with its "Château character" as a global flagship and symbol of German Riesling culture.

Kiedrich Klosterberg Riesling Trocken VDP.ERSTE LAGE®

WINE ORIGIN

The name of the VDP.ERSTE LAGE® Klosterberg refers to the medieval connecting path from Kloster Eberbach, which crossed the site and led via the monastery's properties in Kiedrich to Eltville. The stony-grassy soils of the south-west-facing vineyard feature colorful slate rock as well as phyllite and sericite gneiss.

STYLE OF WINE

Elegant powerhouse: Characterized by the deep soil structure of the Klosterberg, this dry Riesling displays elegant minerality on the one hand, but above all a rich substance with plenty of grip on the palate. The vinification uses differentiated maceration times, spontaneous fermentation in traditional "Doppelstück" barrels [2,400 liters] and additional time in barrel on the full lees without sulfur until filtration. A true dry "Premier Cru from German soil" with great ageing potential.
